

PURELY PERSONAL

The Movement of Many People, Newberrians and Those Who Visit Newberry

Two encouraging and pleasing sights greet our eyes in passing along the road the back way from home—a fine oats patch of Col. Buford's on the one side and fine cattle browsing in Mr. Scott's pasture on the other.

Dr. John D. Pitts, after remaining at Rock Hill for a few days, has been transferred to a sanatorium in Charlotte, according to information received here by friends. He probably will remain there for several weeks under special treatment. It is stated, before undergoing a contemplated operation.—Laurensville Herald.

The amount for Newberry county from the state and federal aid fund for the teaching of agriculture is $2,955.

Monday's Fox News at the opera house will show the recent fire at the Newberry Lumber company's plant. This scene, to say nothing of other pictures, ought alone to draw a good crowd, to see how Moving Photographers Leslie are helping to "put Newberry on the map."

A large number of Shriners from Laurens are planning to attend the spring ceremony at Rock Hill next Thursday. The contingent from here will include a patrol that has been specially trained for the forthcoming celebration.—Laurensville Herald.

Shrine: Tom P. Johnson, in particular, will please make a note.

Mr. I. H. Hunt was in Greenville Thursday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Huff of Spartanburg are visiting their daughter, Mrs. C. F. Templeton.

A prominent citizen of Newberry had to make good to two bright, pretty and sweet little girls during chautauqua week. He had persuaded them to remain for a lecture, telling them the speaker would cut his talk short. He had been informed to that effect and felt safe in his statement. But the lecturer was long winded and the little girls got tired and took up much of the time consulting their friend's watch and asking how much longer it would be. The friend felt so sorry for having unwittingly inflicted punishment on the little twins he made up by getting each one a box of nice, fine candy. He is a good man and didn't mind it.

The muscadine punch man from Houston, Texas, was at the Lime-Cola plant last week, arranging for more syrup for the fast bottling of this palatable and healthful new drink.

Now and henceforth, by order of Chief of Police S. C. McCarley, the law will be enforced against cut-outs and mufflers. Some people say that as all autoists seem to keep these noise producers open they have become a nuisance. Chief says they must be closed and kept closed. In other words, cut it out, cut it out.

Mr. W. F. Wightman, after having for over two years served the People's Life Insurance company of Charleston as its local agent, has resigned his position and is now resting in his labors for a while.

The stepmother of the human race, the cow, will be the subject of a lecture at the court house next Monday, 22nd instant. The object is for the good of all, so let the people come up to the milky way Monday and see about it at 10:30 in the morning.

Messrs. L. P. Richardson, C. E. Verdery, Paul Brown and Alvin Wright of Anderson motored to this city Friday and attended the Newberry-Clemson baseball game, among a very large crowd of spectators from a wide range of territory.

J. C. Howard of Newberry has been dismissed from the Baptist hospital.—The State, 13th.

Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Chapman are signed his position and is now "retiring" today, Monday, to the home of Dr. Ted Johnstone and daughter, Miss Julia Johnstone.

Saturday's State, in mentioning a farewell service arranged for Sunday evening to three theological graduates, well known to the people of Newberry, Hajime Inadomi, Carl Caughman and Paul Counts, who will shortly leave Columbia for service in the foreign mission field, says: "Hajime Inadomi is a native of Japan and will return to his native land in September to labor for the evangelization of his people. Carl Caughman of Mississippi will serve in the mission field of India. Paul Counts of Georgia will go to Liberia, Africa. These young men have a host of friends in Columbia."

Rev. Ernest K. Counts, just graduating from the Lutheran Theological seminary, well known in this city as a Newberry college alumnus from Pomaria, is to be married in Columbia on the 23rd instant to Miss Nellie Leon Derrick of that city. Mr. Counts preached at Mt. Tabor, near Little Mountain, Sunday.

Maj. J. F. J. Caldwell, one of the state's foremost citizens, is on the program to respond to the address of welcome by Mayor McLeod at the reunion of veterans in Darlington. It was arranged for Mrs. R. D. Wright to make the response to the address of welcome by Mrs. C. J. Milling, president South Carolina division, U. D. C., on behalf of John Melver chapter. Mrs. Wright's inability, owing to illness, to respond to this address will be a source of deep disappointment and keen regret to the thousands of her friends and admirers throughout the state and elsewhere.

After ever so many years the torn-up, tumbled-down, rotten, dilapidated stairway between the Newberry Drug company's and Claude H. Williams' grocery stores has been removed and new steps are being placed in position along "the narrow way."

Street Supervisor J. W. Wertz is having good work done along McKibben street running from the corner at the store of Sam B. Burns down the business part, putting curbing and cement drain, to be followed by overhauling and repairing the sidewalk. After finishing that side he will turn his attention to the other side and do some work over there.

We have been observing a box of pepper plants screened in front of a McKibben street store. "They say" it is to protect the plants from germs carried by flies. Germs are liable of attacking more things now than when the little Moses was found on the river bank.

After the address on Stepmother Cow the 22nd, you will be talked to on "You and Your Town" the 25th. It will be a Strong address.

Hot weather starts out like this is going to be roasting year.

Col. W. H. Hunt is spending a few days in the city.—Dr. McIntosh is here for a few days.—The State, 20 years ago.

District No. 3: Spartanburg, Laurens, Union, Newberry and Cherokee counties: the state having been divided into ten districts of the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Cooperative association; members of which are called to assemble in their respective county seats on May 23 "for the purpose of setting the machinery for a permanent organization in motion."

The annual address before the Students' Mission league will be made Tuesday night (16th) at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Charles A. Freed, D. D., former pastor of Ebenezer Lutheran church of this city.—The State, announcing commencement exercises Lutheran Theological seminary.

Congressman F. H. Dominick and Senator Alan Johnstone have been named as among the delegates appointed to the Muscle Shoals conference May 22-24.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Cole L. Bleas of Columbia spent Sunday in Newberry, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Julius R. Eison.

Prof. Smiley L. Porter, who has been spending some of his week-ends in Newberry during the term of his Bowman school, is once more at home.

"Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe." These words of the doubting Thomas, as recorded in the 25th strong and convincing sermon at St. John's gospel, formed the text from which Bishop Finlay preached a strong and convincing sermon at St. Luke's Episcopal church in this city on Sunday afternoon. He made his remarks plain and forceful, and the application of the quoted words of Thomas to the actions of men today was very clear and striking. Bishop Finlay is a pleasing and attention-holding speaker, a deep thinker, and withal a minister of winning personality, whose words sink with reason into the minds of his hearers.

Winthrop college certainly got two strong preachers to take part in the commencement when Bishop Guerry and Dr. Skinner accepted invitations.

Mr. ad Mrs. J. W. McCain came over to see their daughter, Mrs. T. P. Johnson. Mr. McCain spent the week-end. Mrs. McCain is extending her visit.

Mr. W. R. Elmore was in the city Saturday showing that he was one heckped husband. He told some ladies that he was, but they would not believe it at first. However, they had wanted to see a heckped man, to see what he looked like. Mr. Elmore indeed was a real heckped bonus vir. Even his hands showed it. Both hands were bandaged, a chicken hen having pecked them very badly.

Dr. C. A. Freed, accompanied by Messrs. Wm. Johnson and Geo. C. Hipp, motored to Clinton Sunday afternoon to attend the popular religious meeting in the interest of the Clinton Caravan. Order of the Good Samaritan. Dr. Freed preached. "They say" he preached a fine sermon. Of course he did. We know that without being told.

Mrs. J. H. Summer is spending the week dividing time with her sister, Mrs. Fayette Hunter in Sumter and her brother, Mr. J. W. Swattenberg, in Kingstree.

Mr. Z. R. Perez of San Antonio, Texas, is in Newberry. He came to put a new drink on the market and is busy at the Coca-Cola Bottling plant, from which point this new drink will be sent out for distribution over the wide territory business by this popular plant. The name of the new drink has a pleasing sound—Delaware Punch. Bottling will begin this afternoon, Monday, after which "you-all" can test this candidate of a drink for public favor.

The 7th of June will be here soon and then the happy season of June berries, June brides and June roses. (Please don't mention June bugs in this connection.) This is always something harmonious with nature in the mention of a June bride and the June rose.

Andrew Jackson, Jr., colored boy, was found guilty of breaking a window glass of the school building and was met with a fine of $15 in the recorder's court Monday. Half of the fine was paid, the balance suspended on good behavior. In a case of riding bicycle on sidewalk a $1 bond was forfeited. As the same sitting two colored females (are the females of species worse than the females) Mary Garmany and Emma Williams were up for disorderly conduct. Both were sentenced to pay fines of $10 or serve 20 days. They had not paid "up to date."

Miss Maude Gilliam spent the week-end in Columbia.

One of the best, brightest and wittiest little bits we have heard in a long time was what a boy said to his mother when he had returned with some flowers from a neighbor's home for Mother's day. He had picked out a special flower for himself—a red and white sweetpea (you'll see such beautiful combination). His mother told him he must wear a red one, as she was living. After arguing about it and holding to the opinion that he must wear the one he had picked out, he finally told his mother that the reason he wanted the red-white flower was because he had been hearing her say for over a week that she was half dead.

Messrs. A. H. Counts and J. C. Poole witnessed the Carolina-Clemson game in Columbia Saturday.

The Mothers' club will hold its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the high school.

In Scott's pasture are some fine cows for milk and butter. As this is Stepmother Cow time see Messrs. O. H. Lane and B. A. Havard for good deals. Henry and Ben are expert cow boys when it comes to knowing cattle. As the ad. tells you, these cows are fresh and heavy springers from Tennessee.

Bishop Finlay of Columbia was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. E. Keitt while in Newberry Sunday.

Mrs. Clarence Wertz has been seriously ill and suffering much during the past several weeks from the after effects of the flu, which settled in the back of her head and then affected her eye very painfully. She is still sick, but her many friends will be glad to know that her condition is now improving.

Misses Ethel and Jess Bowen, Mr. Horace Bowen and Miss Myrtle Norton of Hendersonville, N. C., were week-end visitors at the home of W. H. Hardeman.

Rev. T. E. Elgin of Knoxville, Tenn., preached at the First Baptist church here Sunday morning for Mr. Babb, who was present. Mr. Elgin is visiting his mother, Mrs. M. T. Elgin, who has been sick at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. M. Bigby, in this city. Rev. Mr. Elgin is taking a rest from his labors, having recently resigned as president of the Tennessee River institute at Bridgeport, Ala.

Mr. J. Lawson Long of Dallas, Texas, passed through Newberry Friday on his way to Columbia. He left Mrs. Long at the home of his sister, Mrs. Jno. C. Goggans, Sr. He returned Sunday morning with Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Jones on their way to Laurens. Messrs. Goggans and Jones came through again on Monday morning for Columbia where they have business interests. Mrs. Lawson Long and Miss Nora Long left Monday afternoon for Laurens to visit Mrs. L. G. Baile and before returning will visit Mrs. Sarah Simpson in Anderson.

Death of Mrs. J. T. Mayes

Just as we are arranging to go to press this, Monday, afternoon, the sad news of the death of Mrs. J. T. Mayes came to us, death occurring at 2:30 o'clock. This will be distressing to the many friends of the family, coming as a shock to all and casting a gloom over the community, as it was hoped and believed that the announcement recently of her improvement would soon be followed by the glad tidings of her recovery.

FURMAN DEFEATS CLEMSON TIGERS

Some Good Pitching by Both Sides, Each Moundsman Yielding Three Hits

The State.

Clemson College, May 11—Furman defeated Clemson, 4 to 0, this afternoon. McLeod pitched a good game allowing three hits to the Tigers. A walk and one hit combined with several misjudged balls by Clemson fielders gave Furman three runs in the third. Errors gave them another in the sixth. Rhem pitched well for Clemson, allowing but three hits to the visitors. Before the game Ned Williams, president of the senior class, acting for the student body, presented a handsome traveling bag to Capt. L. V. H. Durfee of the Clemson military department, as a token of appreciation for his services as coach of the Tiger team.

ANNOUNCEMENT LUNCHEON FOR MISS ANNA COE KEITT

A very charming affair of Friday noon was a luncheon given by Mrs. J. L. Keitt at her handsome residence in Boundary street to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Anna Coe Keitt, to Mr. Edgar Hart of Edgefield.

The home was beautifully adorned with a wealth of fragrant sweetpeas, these blossoms in the pastel shades gracing the front rooms, while in the dining room a color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the flowers and other details of the pretty party. In the center of the dining table was a cut glass bowl of pink and white sweetpeas, on a reflector outlined with sweetpeas of the same delicate shades. The place cards were miniature brides sitting in half moons and were very attractive. The souvenirs were tiny cutglass baskets filled with pink and white sweetpeas, tied with pink tulle and with cards attached bearing the announcement: "Keitt-Hart, June 15." A tempting luncheon in four courses was served. Covers were placed for twelve as follows: Mrs. J. L. Keitt, Miss Anna Coe Keitt, Mrs. T. E. Keitt, Mrs. E. B. Purcell, Mrs. A. J. Patrick, Mrs. T. E. Davis, Mrs. Roy Summer, Mrs. Douglas Hornsby, Mrs. Drayton Nance, Miss Pauline Fant, Mrs. Bob Wallace, Miss Josie Reid.

The guest of honor was showered with many good wishes from her friends and all of Newberry joins in wishing this lovable young girl every happiness.

A Good Man For Governor

The Gaffney Ledger calls upon the Hon. George B. Cromer of Newberry to make the race for governor of South Carolina. "Mr. Cromer is well known to the people of Cherokee county," says the Ledger, "and it is the opinion of all that he would make a splendid chief executive."

The Ledger is right in its estimate of George B. Cromer of Newberry, than whom there is no more honest and conscientious man in our state or nation. Besides that he has marked ability; he is a statesman by nature; a deep thinker and a clear reasoner and his judgment is sound. He is a gentleman in the true sense and in every sense of the term. South Carolina has many men of large calibre, men of big minds, men of integrity and ability. The Ledger has, however, in our opinion, called the attention of the voters of South Carolina to the biggest, cleanest, truest type of gentleman to be found in our state today.

The Courier most heartily endorses the Ledger's suggestion. We hope that Mr. Cromer will take it as a call from his people to offer himself for service to them in a time when the need of the hour is great men of his calibre.

We know that Mr. Cromer's personal preference would take him far from the governor's office and from active politics. South Carolina, however, has need of George B. Cromer, and, though his entrance into politics would entail personal sacrifice to him, he is big enough to make the sacrifice for the good of the state, unless, perchance, there be insurmountable obstacle in the way, of which we and other friends of his know not of.

The New York chap who cursed a policeman will know better when he gets out of the hospital.

Some fellow who doesn't know when he is well off proposes to start a new daily paper in Chicago.

A judge has ruled that a wife is worth $8,000. Some of them cost a good deal more.

Death of Mr. John Koon

Mr. John Oliver Koon died suddenly on his place at Pomaria Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. He was giving instructions to negro farm hand as to some work, showing how he wanted it done, when he fell stricken by heart disease. Before the negro could get other help Mr. Koon was dead. The body was brought to the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Lake, in this city Saturday morning. The burial took place at Rosemont cemetery in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, service by the Rev. Mr. Merritt of Pomaria and Dr. J. L. Daniel. Following were the pallbearers: Charles S. Suber, Wm. J. Wicker, Jas. P. Setzler, Dr. W. C. Brown, W. E. Elmore and James C. Duncan.

Mr. Koon was the son of the late Henry Koon, well known in the city and county. He was 76 years old and unmarried. His only surviving member of the immediate family is the sister, Mrs. Lake.

Mr. Koon was a Confederate veteran and member of Jas. D. Nance camp. He was in the city on the recent Memorial day and took part in it.

Death of Miss Bessie Davenport

Miss Bessie Davenport died at 11:30 o'clock Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davenport, at Belfast, after a lingering illness, at the age of 28 years, and was buried at Bush River church on Monday afternoon at 4:30, service by Rev. E. V. Babb.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hendrix, Mr. and Mrs. Lamb Matthews, and Mr. Mack Matthews and daughter of Leesville; Mrs. Mattie Edridge and Mr. John Andrew Sattrewhite of Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Wooten of Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. Grover Geiger of Casey; Mr. Raymond Reeder of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Drafts and Mr. Joe Black and children of Saluda were among those attending the burial of the late Mr. E. P. Matthews.

Miss Pauline Senn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Taz Senn, will be among the graduates on the 18th instant from the University Hospital for Trained Nurses in Georgia, which fine institution always turns out the most excellent of trained nurses.
